

From Hazel Green.

A. Taulbee reports the birth of a baby to the wife of Jos. A. Hazel Green, on the 10th.

Day has been improving his property, and now has one of the most convenient dwellings in Hazel Green.

C. W. Rice, of Richmond, has accepted a position as salesman in the store of J. T. Day at this place, and entered upon his new duties Monday.

Taylor Day has bought all the poplar timber on Mike O'hair's boundary of land on Laurel, and is building a fine splash dam to run it out to Red river.

Postmaster Pieratt a few days since sold a $50 money order to a man, who paid him fifty one dollar bills. That probably accounts for the scarcity of change.

Miss Belle Crookrum, of this place, who has been engaged in teaching school in Breathitt for some time, was last week married to a young Mr. Haddix, son of Henley Haddix.

The editor of this paper is neither a seventh son or the son of a seventh son, and therefore, not supposed to be gifted with prophetic speech. This much, however, we will hazard: If the contemplated road to Caney cannot coal fields does not come by way of Hazel Green it will be because the people at Mt. Sterling and along the line do not make a proper effort to secure it. This, too, in the face of the fact that the company has recently purchased land at Morehead. But in this connection it is well enough to ask: Are we making an effort to get it? Is Mt. Sterling doing anything.

West Liberty Items.

(From the Messenger.)

James Turner, of Mt. Sterling, is visiting relatives here this week. Everybody has the gripe.

Thomas E. Lykin's school will be out the 29th.

The second term of the West Liberty Academy will begin on Monday, January 2, 1894.

Hiram Greer, of Grassy, was in town Saturday and qualified as a Magistrate, succeeding Esquire Williams, who has moved to another district. Uncle H informs us that he has a notion to have people prefix "Uncle" to take the place of "Uncle" is familiarly known.

Henry purchased last week a new horse from John A. Ezel. He also sold his store of merchandise to W. M. Kendall, who bought from Mr. Kendall the M. Prater farm on the West river containing about 300 acres, and the farm opposite West river, containing 68 acres, and a lot on Water street.

Mr. Henry has 15 farms in Morgan and Magoffin counties, most of them elegantly timbered and full of coal and bituminous coal, which he proposes to sell on reasonable terms. If you want bargains in secure homes call on him.

The corps of railroad engineers who passed through town last week for Caney, have made a survey of Caney to the mouth of Elk river. W. Stele, crossing the Licking river, and Adams property on the right bank of the river, south of Elk Fork. This claimed, is very accessible, being easy. No tunneling is the road leaves Mr. Stele's a short one. The surveyors were running the point on Caney creek for the road. It is thought that this will build a road. Considerable talk has been going on at line of the road.

Hurried From Jackson.

Judge I. Chambers, of Lee county, died Monday at two o'clock at his residence.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sewell, last Friday, the 8th inst., a daughter. But few parents are so greatly blessed as these. They have eleven stout, healthy and bright children all still sheltered by the same roof, though one has passed his majority. Never did children have more devoted parents.

The special December term of the Breathitt Circuit Court convened Monday morning the 11th inst., with Judge D. B. Redwine at his post. In the absence of Hon. A. H. Howard, Commonwealth's Attorney, Hon. J. B. White, of Irvine, was appointed Commonwealth's Attorney pro tem. There was no Grand Jury organized for the term, therefore this term of the court is less horrible to the violators of the law.

We learn from Dr. G. M. Cook, of Hyden, the particulars of a very bloody fray in Clay county, in which George Bagley, of Leslie county, was killed. The killing occurred the 6th inst., at the Miller Gilbert farm on Redbird. There was a sale at the place at which 500 people had assembled and a great deal of liquor was on hand. An old grudge existed between Bagley and Abijah Napier. There was a pitched battle the like of which perhaps has not occurred since the war. The friends of the above men to the number of 30 on a side, fired 300 shots. It is thought that Wm. Wages, of Perry, fired the fatal shot. Two were badly wounded and several made hair breadth escapes. Up to Sunday, Wages and his friends to the number of 75 were defying arrest and more trouble is expected.

CREOSOTE AND CONSUMPTION.

The Drug Would Seem to Be Able to Master the Disease.

Consumption is now combated by many specialists using creosote. The benefit derived from the proper employment of this drug is hardly questionable. Dr. Warner, consulting physician to the French hospital, New York city, writes to The Medical Journal: "During a somewhat extensive employment of this remedy in phthisis for the past four years, both in hospital and in private practice, I have watched with great encouragement the steady gain in the results obtained, but it has been only during the latter half of the time that the positive value of creosote as an agent for combating most powerfully the effects of this disease has been made apparent. Formerly my custom was to administer the drug in small doses, exceptionally giving more than six or eight minims daily. During the last couple of years, however, the doses have been largely increased with correspondingly better results." Some specialists explain the favorable action of creosote in lessening the bronchial secretion and improving the appetite. Other observers, however, believe in a distinctively curative value of the remedy.

Dr. Warner writes: "The general condition of the patient, as a rule, rapidly improves. In some cases the appetite is better, the cough at first becomes less during the daytime, while remaining quite as before during the night. After a time, however, it also lessens at night. If the sputum has been tinged with blood, this condition disappears, contrary to what might be expected, as creosote is said to congest the bronchial mucous membrane, and while at first the sputum is not much lessened, if at all, its character is changed—from being thick and yellow—mucopurulent, in fact—it becomes thinner, frothy and contains less solid matter."

In no case where previously attacks of hemoptysis—spitting of blood—had occurred have they taken place after the creosote treatment has been established. The night sweats grow less and in many cases entirely disappear, and after awhile there is a total absence of the daily fever. The weight of the patient always increases at first, then it is apt to remain stationary, and in exceptional cases may lessen, and then a gradual increase takes place. The first increase in weight is no doubt due to the improvement in appetite and the greater ability of the patient to properly assimilate the food consumed."

Large amounts of creosote may be retained without discomfort, one of Dr. Warner's patients reaching a daily amount of 215 minims. A valuable aid to the internal administration of creosote is found by the coincident use of aromatic inhalations of creosote. "My custom is to use creosote combined either with turpentine or ether in a 50 per cent solution, 10 or 15 minims dropped on the sponge of a Robinson's inhaler, and employed every second or third hour, and in some instances where marked benefit has been derived from the employment of this measure the respirator has been worn almost constantly." is the testimony of the doctor.

He tried also the effect, in a large ward of a hospital, of allowing an antiseptic mixture to simmer gently over a low fire during the night. This mixture generally consisted of oil of eucalyptus, carbolic acid and turpentine. A dram each of the first two and two drams of the last were put in about a quart of water in a shallow dish and heat applied. The effect was to fill the ward with a pungent, aromatic vapor, which has a markedly restful action, coughing being not nearly so general or frequent.—New York Ledger.

Reducing Vibration in Railway Cars.

A new invention embodies a principle which will commend itself to all railway travelers. It is sought to lessen the discomfort and annoyance of travel on many lines on which there is excessive vibration by the construction of a pneumatic car which embraces the application of an elastic fluid as an absorbent for vibration and oscillation. "An air cushion is arranged on the cellular principle between the car body and the truck frame, and as there is an equal distribution of air under varying pressures all oscillation is prevented. This elastic medium is said to completely absorb all vibration resulting from rough tracks, jointing of rails, excessive speed or any other cause, and the car is carried smoothly and steadily along. This pneumatic system can be equally well applied to street cars, and instances are not hard to find in which it unquestionably should be.—Exchange.

An Eastern Dainty.

The Chinese are certainly a strange people—strange in appearance, customs and tastes. One of their greatest delicacies of food, regarded from a Chinese epicure's point of view, is "milk," which, in plain English, means "new-born mice, yet blind." These are placed alive on little trays and set before each guest, who takes them one at a time into a jar of honey and then swallows the tiny creatures. When the emperor's wedding was celebrated a few years ago, 50,000 of the helpless creatures were thus consumed.—New York Herald.

Novel Way of Selling a Corn-Carer.

A gentleman who has been traveling in France relates that in Paris the barber who was shaving him stepped two or three times upon the side of his foot. At last the customer called out: "Please don't do that any more! I have a corn." "Exactly what I was trying to find out, monsieur," said the barber blandly. "We have an excellent preparation for removing corns, for sale at a franc per bottle."—Texas Sittings.

Banks and Building and Loan Associations are becoming more popular with, as well as more profitable for the people as they grow in age.

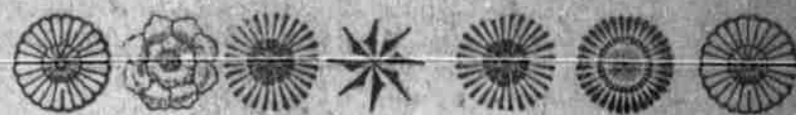

As some newspaper man has wisely said, during the recent money panic, "they are blessing in disguise." These words have been made good in thousands of cases where persons had stock in numerous money enterprises, but could not realize a dollar on anything but Building and Loan stock. The sensible conclusion, then, is that but a short time must elapse before people with money to invest will be seeking a good Association to buy stock in and not waiting for agents to drum up the business, as has been the case heretofore.

Some people haven't the money to invest now. But take our advice and invest your small earnings, or a portion of them, monthly, in a strong, large, growing Association, one where on the first of January and July, each year, you get statements showing what your money is doing for you, one whose success has been unequalled by any other previous effort; one who is always first in putting in new features, and each one better than the last, for the stockholders; one who is governed by the strictest State laws of any in the Union; one who, in case you need it, has money to loan either on real estate in town or on your shares; one who allows free withdrawal to such as desire, but offer GRAND inducements to the persistent "stayers."

There is ONE ONLY of this kind represented here. It is approved of and patronized by our representative business men, who are noted for their business wisdom and enterprise. The Co-operative Savings and Loan Association, of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, has just established an excellent local board here, and we predict a good business for them, owing to the inducements they offer investors.

In two years time they have sold over Four Million Dollars ($4,000,000) of their Capital Stock. No Association in the United States equals this record. So if you have money or want money call on their Special Agent,
